

Meeting of The University Senate

Official Report of Proceedings

The first meeting of the Senate of the University of Alberta was held in the Old Parlours' Hall, Strathcona, Monday, March 30th, the following members of the Senate being present: Honorable Mr. Justice Stuart, Chancellor, Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Minister of Education, Dr. H. M. Tord, President R. S. Jenkins, Dr. W. D. Morris, James McCaig, George Harcourt, P. J. Nolan, R. J. Hatching, Hon. Mr. Justice Beck, J. O. Boyd, E. K. Strath and John A. McDougall, the members of the Senate absent being Dr. J. H. Riddell, Edmonton, Dr. B. D. Mills, mayor of Strathcona, to address the meeting, Mr. Mills briefly welcomed the Chancellor and members of the Senate to Strathcona and expressed the pleasure felt by the citizens when the announcement was made that Strathcona was the University centre for the Province. He also assured the Senate of the co-operation of the City Council and the people of Strathcona, in trying to make the surroundings accord with the dignity of the University.

The meeting was called to order promptly at ten thirty and on motion of Dr. Rutherford and Dr. Tord, Hon. Mr. Justice Stuart was voted to be the chair. The Chancellor invited Mr. B. D. Mills, mayor of Strathcona, to address the meeting. Mr. Mills briefly welcomed the Chancellor and members of the Senate to Strathcona and expressed the pleasure felt by the citizens when the announcement was made that Strathcona was the University centre for the Province. He also assured the Senate of the co-operation of the City Council and the people of Strathcona, in trying to make the surroundings accord with the dignity of the University.

Mr. Harold W. Riley was appointed Secretary of the Senate until such time as the University should appoint a Registrar.

After the formal opening addresses were made to the Senate by Dr. Rutherford and Dr. Tord, the President of the University, Dr. Rutherford made a statement that 288 acres of land had been purchased for the University site at a cost of $150,000. He estimated that the land was now worth at least $300,000. He pointed out that the Government had made provisions for the running expenses of the University by granting 20 per cent of the tax collected under the Corporations Taxation Act and also 20 per cent of the income from the Education tax. He stated that this would be sufficient for the present to meet the running expenses of the University and that the Government would probably assist towards providing for a building at a later date. He also called attention to the fact that the Government had taken upon itself the responsibility of securing the President of the University who is with us today. He assumed the Senate that the present Legislature are liberally disposed to education and no doubt future Legislatures would be liberally disposed towards the University and that the present University Act would be amended in the future in such a way as to meet the wishes of the Senate in connection with the University.

Dr. Tord, the President of the University, made a few remarks. He pointed out that this was an historical occasion. The establishment and organization of the University is a great work in the beginning of which only a few can have the honor of participating. He congratulated the Senate upon the fact that it was not a work of re-organizing a disorganized institution but we are founding a University which will be for the benefit and uplifting of the Province as a whole. He congratulated the Senate also upon the fact that we have not to deal with religious strife and anomalies in the founding of a University but that as a united Province we are starting to bring to pass an institution that will mean more to the development of the life of the community. He stated that while we were free to make our own traditions within the Province that we must use tradition and past experience of similar institutions as a guide and take from these the best they have to offer. He pointed out that the establishment of the University will sustain the relation to the high schools similar to that which the high school would sustain to the elementary schools. As those who pass from the elementary to enter the high school so those who have completed the high school, ours with credit would be permitted to freely enter the University.

The University should be arranged in relation to the Educational system of the Province so as to make the passage from one grade to another easy and nature study. University graduation is reached. It would be the University's policy to foster the High School interests in the broadest and most general way.

He pointed out that three things would be necessary to realize the plan that we have before us. First the men that would interpret it in its broadest and best sense. We should aim to bring to the Province men of the highest scholastic attainments to be found on the continent. Second we must have a library commensurate with our needs. In this respect we will have the co-operation of the Government in the establishment of the Provincial Library and we hope of the various elements of the Province which may be benefited by the presence of the library.

Dr. Tord took the occasion also to announce that Dr. Rutherford who had already done so much for the University also had agreed to furnish the Library at his own expense with a complete set of works by Canadian Authors. This will be a very valuable contribution to the University and the Province. The third thing he emphasized is the equipment suitable for an institution such as the University of Alberta is hoped to be.

The question of the date of opening classes was discussed and Dr. Tord explained that he had carefully studied the situation in the Province and had reason to believe that there could be forty students ready for the opening of classes in September, and while in some ways he would prefer that we should not before a year before opening classes nevertheless the circumstances seem to warrant our taking the next step forward and he would recommend that classes would be opened in September next. After some discussion it was decided by the Senate to accept this recommendation. It was decided to accept the offer that had been made by the school board of the City of Strathcona for the use of their west end school building for University purposes for the current year.

It was decided to offer courses leading to the degree of B.A. and B.Sc. in Arts and the course of B.Sc. in practical science. This made it necessary that one faculty should be organized and it was decided to organize a faculty to be known as the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Tord submitted a calendar for the University which he had prepared giving outlines of the courses that should be offered for the current year and after very careful consideration the scheme as provided for in the calendar was adopted by the Senate and ordered to be published. Dr. Tord was given authority by the Senate to bring together such a staff as would be necessary in order to carry out the work offered in the calendar for the current year.

Mr. John A. McDougall was appointed Honorary Treasurer of the Univer-

No business of special importance came before the City Council at its regular weekly sitting last evening. The routine work was disposed of before 10 o'clock and the council afterwards discussed the estimates for 1908 in committee of the whole.

A petition for a sidewalk on the north side of Fourth Avenue North, between Fourth and Fifth Streets East was referred back to the petitioners, not having been presented in proper form.

Two ladies on behalf of the Strathcona suffragettes were taking exception to City Solicitor Jamieson's replies to Alderman Tipton's inquiries at a previous meeting as to how the clause giving votes to women came to be left out of the bill amending the city charter just passed by the Provincial Legislature. Their letter was ordered to be laid on the table to be dealt with at the next meeting of the council.

The following accounts were ordered paid:

H. Duncan	$ 9 50
H. Duncan	26 00
A. C. Murphy	80 00
Canadian Oil Co.	98 10
G. R. Dalphin	2 00
Department of Agriculture	2 00
A. C. Beaton	75 75
G. McDonald	7 25
White Star Coal Co.	4 20
Strathcona Cartage Co.	2 00
A. G. Baalim	3 30
J. E. Green	4 00
C. J. McDonald	4 86
J. J. Martin	50 00
P. Burns & Co.	5 20
Cook & Orr	12 00
A. H. Richards & Co.	1 75

The Council adopted a report of the Industrial Committee recommending that the city grant a sum of not more than $500 to the Board of Trade towards the cost of a joint exhibit at the Calgary Dominion Fair to be known as the Edmonton and Strathcona exhibit.

Further correspondence was read in regard to the superintending of the construction of the proposed new City Hospital. It will be remembered that the Senate and on accepting it generously donated the sum of five hundred dollars to be offered as scholarships for students entering the University. The Hon. Dr. Rutherford also offered a scholarship of one hundred dollars for a similar purpose, the scholarships to be opened to regulars of the whole Province. To this amount the Senate added the sum of two hundred dollars. The whole was left to the executive committee to arrange.

Executive and Finance Committees were appointed as follows:

The Executive.—The Chancellor, Dr. Tord, Dr. Ferris, Judge Beck and Mr. McDougall.

Finance.—McDougall, Dr. Tord, Mr. McCaig, Dr. Riddell and Mr. Strath. Hon. Mr. Justice Beck was appointed Vice-Chancellor of the University provision having been made in the University Act for this appointment.

It was decided to hold the first University Convocation in the Autumn, some time near the opening of the classes. The Executive was asked to consider the matter and to report to the next meeting of the Senate. It was ordered that the next meeting of the Senate be held in the City of Calgary, probably during the month of July on the call of the President of the University.

The Executive Committee met this morning and decided to offer for the present year four scholarships of $1000 each open to students of the whole Province and to offer next year four additional scholarships of the same amount.

These scholarships will be open to all students on a competitive examination to be held at the University in September. The subjects being the ordinary matriculation subjects. Students who have passed their high school grades may enter the competition by writing on the September examinations.

This inaugurates a policy in connection with University scholarships that it is hoped that a large number of citizens of Alberta will be induced to become interested in.

Dr. Tord leaves for the East tomorrow to procure the equipment and Library necessary for the beginning of the work and also to arrange for a staff for the coming year.

The council then went into committee of the whole to further consider estimates.

E. last week when it is said without any provocation he plunged a knife into the interior of a C. P. R. engineer. This happened at Laguna. Baldwin was committed for trial and was brought to Calgary.

Being a youngster, he was put in a cell in the female ward, and for some days has been very quiet.

However, yesterday afternoon he was asked by the matron to throw out the ashes from the stove, and when the door closed on him, evidently made a sudden getaway, taking to the C. P. R. train.

The authorities at the time had their attention centered on an insane prisoner who was dying, and fully twenty minutes passed before the police in general were notified.

The city police officials were immediately notified of the boy's disappearance, and have had special men out looking for him all night, as well as the Mounted Police officers on duty.

Later.—Fraser Baldwin, the young boy who escaped from the Barracks yesterday afternoon was recaptured at 3 45 this morning on the Macleod trail at Johnny Branson's home.

"Your dead husband was a good man," declared the sympathetic Mrs. Casey to the bareheaded widow. "He was," exclaimed Mrs. Murphy, dashing the tears from her eyes, "No two policemen could handle him."

Government Denounced by Their Own Commission

Some Excerpts From Civil Service Commissioner's Report

The following extracts from the report of the Civil Service Commission show how scathingly this Government appointed commission denounce the Laurier administration.

"NEARLY ALL THE EMPLOYEES OF THE PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT ARE OUTSIDE OF THE CIVIL SERVICE," we recommended that they be organized under definite regulations, so that the employment may be fixed and stable. We are led to believe that in many cases there have been undertaken at the instance of interested municipalities without the department's outside engineers being consulted as to their desirability.

THE MILITIA EXPENDITURE HAS INCREASED THREE MILLION DOLLARS IN POWER AND THREE-QUARTER YEARS, and the permanent and headquarters staff has been increased to about 230 men, sufficient in our opinion, for a corps of 100,000 men. In addition to receiving higher pay than the employees of other departments, officials of the militia department draw pensions not only for themselves, but for their wives and children, while the permanent corps number under 3,000 men, desertions have been one in three. Only 40,000 out of 1,000,000 men in Canada between the ages of 20 and 30 came out for drill yearly.

As a result of this we do not expect that these annual camps will be held whether city corps are as efficient as they were some years ago.

THE OUTSIDE SERVICE THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY IS WHOLLY SPENT IN POLITICS. While at Ottawa the departments generally are administered with consideration for the public interest in outside service the politics of the party is of greater importance in making appointments and promotions than in public interests. Practically no one is possible to fill a vacancy in one locality by transfer to another. Those who have political pull use it for what it is worth and bring pressure to procure anything that may prove to their advantage. WE STRONGLY CONDEMN THE PURCHASE OF SUPPLIES BY THE PATRONAGE SYSTEM, and we suggest that the purchasing agents, probably three, should be appointed at good salaries to make all purchases for the department.

THERE IS NOT ONLY LACK OF SUFFICIENT ORGANIZATION AND METHOD IN THE DEPARTMENT OF MARINE AND FISHERIES; THERE WOULD SEEM TO BELONG OF CONSCIENCE. In connection with the enormous expenditures which are deemed necessary the "discount" never appears. It is tacitly assumed there is no such thing, but the whole commercial world knows otherwise. If one gets any benefit from the Government except the trader, then it must be clear that in these great purchases made for the government, without discount, its officers must be assisting the trader to get better prices from the government than he can get anywhere else, for everywhere he has to give a discount. In other words, the whole government officers are serving two masters, and apparently are succeeding with both—Scripture notwithstanding. There is no sign visible of a single directing purpose, unless it be that of spending as much money, as possible, without regard for economy, in work, is not visible.

LARGE AMOUNTS HAVE BEEN SPENT IN SEVERAL PLACES IN THE DOMINION FOR SUPPLIES, BUT FROM THOSE ENJOYING POLITICAL FAVOR, SUCH A WHAT MAY BE CALLED RETAIL RATES. Heavy expenditures have been incurred without the necessary consideration or supervision, and while no doubt the several officers have felt themselves justified owing to the expansion of the revenues, such conduct is contrary to the public interest and ought to be restrained.

The Hanna Mine Disaster

Hanna, Wyo., March 30.—Up to tonight none of the 62 victims of Saturday's two explosions in mine No. 1 of the Hanna Coal Company had been recovered except the five corpses blown from the shaft by the explosions of dust and gas.

The condition of these bodies precludes the possibility that any of the men in mine survived the second explosion.

The official list of the known victims of the disaster given out today by the Hanna Coal Company contains 62 names. It is believed by some that probably ten others met death in the mine. The entrances of the mine have been sealed to smother the fire as it is impossible to go down and fight the flames at close quarters. No effort to enter the mine will be made until the flame are out. Great forces of men are laboring at both shaft entrances removing wreckage.

Prisoner Escaped from Calgary Barracks

Fraser Baldwin, a young man 16 years of age, escaped from the Barracks last night and his going is the most sensational event since the sudden departure from the same place of the late Ernest Cashe. Young Fraser is a Chicago newspaper who came further west for adventure. He got into the toils of the K. N. W. M. E. last week when it is said without any provocation he plunged a knife into the interior of a C. P. R. engineer. This happened at Laguna. Baldwin was committed for trial and was brought to Calgary.

The authorities at the time had their attention centered on an insane prisoner who was dying, and fully twenty minutes passed before the police in general were notified.

The city police officials were immediately notified of the boy's disappearance, and have had special men out looking for him all night, as well as the Mounted Police officers on duty.

Chronicle Literary Columns

The name of Rudyard Kipling has been very much before the public of late and some very severe strictures have been passed upon his "Letters to the Family." In their annoyance at a number of Kiplings not over complimentary remarks some of our leading Canadian papers have made most scathing comments on his writings in general. "The Man who would be King" is in the best Kipling style.

The Law, as quoted, lays down a fair conduct of life, and one not easy to follow. I have been fellow to a beggar again and again under circumstances which prevented either of us from doing so. I have still to be brother to a man who thought I once came near to do so. I have still to be brother to a man who thought I once came near to do so. I have still to be brother to a man who thought I once came near to do so.

The beginning of everything was in a railway train upon the road to Mhow from Ajmir. There had been a deficit in the budget, which necessitated travelling, not second class, which is only half as dear as first class, but by intermediate, which is very awful indeed. There are no cushions in the intermediate class, and the station is either intermediate, which is Eurasian, or native, which for a long night journey is nasty, or loafer, which is "amusing" though intoxicated. Intermediate does not patronize refreshment rooms. They carry their food in bundles and pois, and buy sweets from the native sweetmeat sellers, and drink the road side water. That is why in the hot weather intermediates are taken out of the carriages dead, and in all weathers are most properly looked down upon.

My particular intermediate happened to be empty till I reached Nasirabad, when a huge gentleman in his shirt sleeves entered and, following the custom of intermediates, passed the time of day. He was a wanderer and a yagabond like myself, but with an educated taste for whisky. He told tales of things he had seen and done of out of the way corners of the empire into which he had penetrated, and of adventures in which he risked his life for a few days food. "If India was filled with men like you and me," he said, "I should be a very rich man." "I should be a very rich man," he said, "I should be a very rich man." "I should be a very rich man," he said, "I should be a very rich man."

"We might threaten a station master and make him send a wire on tick," said my friend, "but that'd mean inquiries for you and for me, and I've got my hands full these days. Did you say you are travelling back along this line within any days?"

"Within ten," I said. "Can't you make it eight?" said he. "Mine is a rather urgent business."

"I can send your telegram within ten days if that will serve you," I said. "I couldn't trust the wire to fetch him, now I think of it. It's this way. He leaves Delhi on the 23rd for Bombay. That means he'll be running through Ajmir about the night of the 23rd."

"But I'm going into the Indian desert," I explained. "Well and good," said he. "You'll be clumping at Marwar Junction, to get into Jodhpore territory—you must do that—and he'll be coming through Marwar Junction in the early morning on that time? 'Twon't be inconvenient you, because I know that there's a precious few pickings to be got out of those Central India states—seven though you pretend to be a respondent of the Backwoodman."

"Have you ever tried that trick?" I asked. "Again and again, but the Residents find you out, and then you get escorted to the border before you've time to get your knife into them. But about my friend here. I must give him a word or two mouth to tell him what's come to me, or else he won't know where to go."

I would take it more than kind of you if you was to come out of Central India in time to catch him at Marwar Junction and say to him: "He has gone south for the week." He'll know what that means. He's a big man with a red beard, and a great swell he is. You'll find him sleeping like a gentleman with all his luggage round him in a second class compartment. But don't you be afraid. Slip down the window and say: "He has gone for the week, and he'll tumble. It's only cutting your time to stay in those parts by two days. I ask you as a stranger—going to the west he said with emphasis."

"Where have you come from?" said I. "From the East," said he, "and I hope that you'll give him the message on the square—for the sake of my mother as well as your own."

Baghishahs are not usually mollified by appeals to the memory of their mothers, but for certain reasons which will be fully apparent I saw fit to agree.

"It's more than a little matter," said he, "and that's why I ask you to do it—and now I know that I can depend on you doing it. A second class carriage at Marwar Junction and a red-haired man asleep in it. You'll be sure to remember. I get out at the next station, and I must hold on there till he comes or sends me word."

"I'll give the message if I catch him," I said, "and for the sake of your mother as well as mine I'll give you a word of advice. Don't try to run the Central India States just now as a correspondent of the backwoodman. There's a real one around here and it might lead to trouble."

"Thank you," said he simply, and when will the swine be gone? I can't starve because he's ruining my work. I wanted to get hold of the Begumdar Rajah down here about his father's widow and give him a jump!"

"What did he do to his father's widow, then?" "Filled her up with red pepper and slipped her to death as she hung from a beam. I found that out myself, and I'm the only man who would dare go into the state to get bush money for it. They'll try to poison me same as they did in Chortimma when I went on the loot there. But you'll give the man at the Marwar Junction message?"

He got out a little roadside station, and I reflected. I had heard more than once of men personating correspondents of small newspapers and bleeding small native states with threats of exposure, but I had never met any of the caste before. They lead a hard life, and generally die with great suddenness. The native states have a wholesome horror of English newspapers, which may throw light on their peculiar methods of government, and do their best to choke correspondents with champagne or drive them out of their mind with four-in-hand barouches. They do not understand that nobody cares a straw for the internal administration of native states so long as oppression and crime are kept within decent limits, and the ruler is not drugged, drunk or diseased from one end of the year to another. Native states were created by providence in order to supply picturesque scenery, tigers and tall writing. They are the dark places of the earth, full of unimaginable cruelty, touching the railway and the telegraph on one side and on the other the days of Haroun-al-Raschid. When I left the train I did business with divers kings, and in eight days passed through many changes of life. Sometimes I wore dress clothes and escorted with princes and politicians, drinking from crystal and eating from silver. Sometimes I lay out upon the ground and devoured what I could get from a plate made of flap-jack and drank the running water and slept under the same rug as my servant. It was all in the day's work.

Thence headed for the Great Indian Desert upon the proper date, as I had promised and the night mail set me down at Marwar Junction where a funny little happy-go-lucky, native-managed railway runs to Jodhpore. The Bombay mail from Delhi makes a short halt at Marwar. She arrived as I got in, and I had just time to hurry to her platform and go down the carriages. There was only one second class on the train. I slipped the window and looked down for a flaming red beard, half covered by a railway rug. That was my man, I said, asleep, and I dug him gently in the ribs. He awoke with a start, and I saw his face in the light of the lamp. It was a great and shining face.

"Tickets again?" said he. "No," said I. "I am to tell you that he is gone south for the week. He is gone south for the week."

The train had begun to move out. The red man rubbed his eyes. "He has gone south for the week, he repeated. "Now that's just like his impudence. Did he say that I was to give you anything? 'Cause I won't!" "He didn't," I said, and dropped all away and watched the red lights die out in the dark. It was horrible cold because the wind was blowing off the sands. I climbed into my own train—not an inter-mediator carriage this time—and went to sleep. Later on I reflected that two gentlemen live my two friends could not do any good if they forgot their names and might if they stuck to one of the little rattrap states of Central India or Southern Rajputana, get themselves into serious difficulties. I therefore took some trouble to describe them as accurately as I could. Remember to people who would be interested in depicting them, and succeeded me so I was later informed in having them headed back from Begumdar borders.

The meeting of the Black Trecporty which was fixed for tomorrow evening has been postponed to Friday evening.

All the officers of the club, Lodge No. 9, are requested to attend at the lodge room on Friday evening at 8 o'clock sharp for the purpose of driving the degree team to prepare for the competition.

The Rev Canon Webb, General Missionary and formerly Rector of Strathcona will preach at St. Stephen's Church, Colchester, on Thursday April 9th, at 8 o'clock. Also at East Edmonton on Friday April 10th.

The Curling Club have postponed their hall until Wednesday April 29th. The hall was originally fixed for Easter Monday, April 26th, but the Hockey Club had arranged to hold a Ball on that night and the Curling Club have accordingly postponed theirs. It is to be hoped that both will be successful.

The performance by Clay Clements Company of "London Assurance" at the Opera House drew a large and representative audience among whom we noticed the Premier Dr. Rutherford and Mr. E. W. Day the Conservative candidate for Strathcona. The production was as might be expected a particularly fine one and the audience were highly appreciative. Mr. Clements gave a finished interpretation of the old story and he was ably seconded by Miss Kerrigan as Lady Gay Spunker and a capable company. A special feature of these two performances which the Clements have given has been the orchestra which has given some finely executed music.

A fire which entailed serious loss of property occurred last night in Dr. Wainwright's premises at the rear of his residence on Main Street. The outbreak occurred shortly after nine o'clock and the exact location where the fire originated is unknown. Dr. Wainwright who along with Mr. Duncan runs the Opera House was in the pay box when two boys ran up and told him his house was on fire. He hastily returned to his house a block away to find that the fire had already taken hold. The fire brigade was at once summoned and responded quickly to the call. Meantime Dr. Wainwright has succeeded in drawing out his valuable new house which cost $3,800 and one of two new rigs from the large shed at the back of the premises. The blaze had however reached such proportions that it was impossible to save anything more. His house and furniture were badly damaged as also were those of his father who lives longside. His valuable undertaking outfit was completely destroyed including a large number of collars, a dead wagon, a number of luggies. It is impossible to exactly estimate the damage which will run into several thousands of dollars. Only a small portion of the loss is covered by insurance. The Fire Brigade did excellent work for which Dr. Wainwright wishes to thank them. It is creditable that they managed to save any part of the building.
